The rocking shaft of the engine at the saw-mill of Messrs. J. H. Hatchitt & Co. was broken Wednesday, which will necessitate a stoppage of a week or two at that establishment. It was reported on the street that the boilers had exploded, but it proved to be a mistake.

The Daily Evening News is the name of a newsy little daily paper that made its first appearance in Lexington Tuesday afternoon. Young as it is, it wants the Capital bad. As it grows older it may need capital worse than it wants the Capital to Lexington now, but we wish it long life.

Mr. Chas. Rosson, one of the employees in the broom factory at the Feeble-minded Institute, who standing upon a platform handling broom corn made a misstep and fell to the ground, a distance of some five or six feet, breaking his left arm between the wrist and elbow in two places. Dr. Stewart reduced the fracture.

A man with delirium tremens entered the house on the corner of Steele and Third streets, South Frankfort, formerly owned by Dr. W. H. Hall, Sunday night, going in at one of the windows and frightening the female occupants considerably. A gentleman living in a portion of the house arrested him and turned him over to the police, who took him to Castle Williams to have his Jim jams pulled.

By reference to our advertising column, it will be seen that the steamer Hornet will hereafter make two trips each week between this city and Madison, Indiana. This is but a temporary arrangement, as it is proposed by the company running her, as soon as the lower gates at Lock No. 1 are placed in position, and it is ascertained whether or not the wash out around the end of the dam at that place will interfere with navigation to put enough boats into this trade to have one arrive and leave this city every day, which will be a great convenience to our citizens. Mr. Ed. M. Drane has been appointed agent of the line in this city, and has opened an office at the Valley Mills, where he can be found at all times by persons wishing to ship freight or secure passage.

GEORGE A. LEWIS,
Editor and Publisher.

FRANKFORT, MARCH 25, 1882.

The newspaper correspondents, who have been sent here to write up the Legislature, for want of something better to do, have been abusing our little city for some time. Well, Frankfort has had a good deal of this sort of thing to put up with in days gone by and we have never heard of a single person moving away from the place on account of it or any one declining to come here to live for the same reason, and we are very certain the days have come and gone just the same and the sun shone just as brightly as it did before these gentlemen commenced their war upon our "little sinkhole," and it amuses them we have no objection for they will soon pass away, and strange as it may seem, the city will still remain and our citizens be hardly aware that these great "moudlers of public opinion" have ever honored us with their presence.

A trumper tailor, who had stopped here for a few days, once went into the grocery of Paddy Burns and began abusing our town in a way that did not suit that honest old Hibernian's ideas of propriety, and he said to him:

"Young man, if ye don't like the town ye can leave it."

"Well," said the tailor, "I don't propose to leave the place until I get ready. I am not afraid of any one here."

"But there's somebody most damnable afraid of yes," said Paddy.

"Well, sir, I don't see why they should be afraid of me," replied the tailor.

"They are afraid ye'll stole something," said Paddy, as he pointed to the door, and the fellow took the hint.

Last week our Hebrew fellow-citizens organized in this city a mutual benefit association under the name of the Hebrew Mutual Aid and Emigrant Association, which has for its object the nursing and taking care of its members when sick, and contributing to relief of poor emigrants of their belief that may arrive in this locality from foreign countries. The officers of the association are as follows:

Sol Harris, President.
Sam. Harris, Vice President.
Chas. Casper, Treasurer.
C. Shubinski, Secretary.

As Mr. Nat. F. Richardson was coming down to his store from breakfast, Thursday morning, he discovered the roof of the residence of Mr. Jos. L. Rodman to be on fire and immediately notified the family. He then, together with Messrs. Tom and Frank Rodman, ascended to the roof, and by a lively use of buckets of water they soon extinguished the flames. A defective flue was the cause of the trouble. The fire was under the roof and the shingles had to be torn off of considerable space to get at it.

Little Pat Bohannan, son of Mr. Jos. L. Bohannan, swallowed a coffee bean one day the first of the week, which made him deathly sick. A physician was summoned, who administered an emetic which caused him to throw it up.

Patent process flour at four dollars per hundred at L. F. Compton's.

Plain, plaid and striped India linen in great variety at W. T. Runyan's.

A young man from this county will shortly wed a young lady residing in this city.

Last Saturday night a row occurred on the hill above the Arsenal, in which three negro men were engaged. One of them Levi Straus, used a pocket knife upon the other two Robert Blanton and Wm. Garrard. Blanton was dangerously wounded in the throat and breast, but Garrard's wounds were not so serious.

The Missionary Board of Franklin Association will meet at the Baptist Church in Frankfort on Monday, the 3d day of April, at 2 o'clock p.m.

DEBATE OF IMITATIONS.

WEEKLY ROUNDABOUT.

Miss Susan Gray, the seamstress who was sent to the Lunatic Asylum at Lexington from this city last week, was evidently on the way past, for when searched by the attendants at the Asylum, a loaded revolver was found in her bosom and a bag of cartridges in her pocket. It is a great wonder that she did not attempt to take the life of some of those who had her in charge before she left here.

For all pulmonary, urinary and digestive diseases, and afflictions of the heart and brain, use Brown's Iron Bitters. It strengthens every part, and cures by its soothing and refreshing effects.

We are happy to hear of the arrival of Mrs. A. C. Henry and invalid son at her brother's, Mr. A. Carter, and trust that Bowen will soon be well and with us once more. She was also accompanied by little Robert Graham, who is now visiting his grandmother Mrs. Sarah C. Sullivan, of this place. Welcome, Robert and Tom.

Mr. Alexander Grinnell, of Albany, N. Y., says: "I had been for years troubled with great weakness of my digestive organs, which seemed to be always out of fix. Most usually I suffered from constipation, and at other times a severe running off at the bowels would set in. No remedy I ever tried would regulate this function until I tried Brown's Iron Bitters. It really benefited me from the first day I used it. My habits are now perfectly regular, and as a strengthener of the digestive organs, I think Brown's Iron Bitters worth its weight in diamonds."

The prospect for fruit is very flattering thus far, and small grain never looked bet-
